Democrats

You want Good County Government, don't you? The only way to get it is to elect Good Officers. It is your duty to yourselves as taxpayers to know positively which one of the candidates for the nomination for county Attorney will give the best service for the money paid him. It is a business proposition strictly—not a matter of sentiment, friendship or close acquaintance. You want a lawyer that has had the proper training and experience and who is honest and energetic. Which Candidate's Record Is THE BEST? If that of any other is better than mine vote for him. If mine is best vote for me and I will appreciate it. J. J. GREENLEAF.

SIXTY-FIVE per cent of the workers in the United States Steel Corporation's plant at Pittsburgh earn less than the actual cost of subsistence to the average family, according to calculations made before the Stanley Steel Trust Investigating Committee by Louis D. Brandeis, "the people's lawyer." "The average wage of 65 per cent of the employees in the steel plants at Pittsburgh," he said, "is 12 1/2 cents an hour. The Associated Charities of that city, by careful investigation, has figured it out that the cost of bare existence of a family of a husband and wife and three children in Pittsburgh is $765 a year. By working twelve hours a day, 365 days a year, this 65 per cent of the workers, at the end of their year's labor, will have earned just $1.50 less than this sum. These horrible conditions are the result of the use of the great power and wealth of this trust to prevent its employees from joining organizations. The condition of labor in this industry is nothing less than slavery. In ten years this trust, while working men under these conditions, have taken from the American people $520,000,000 in excess of a liberal profit on its investment, and this enormous profit has been used to grind down its workers to their present miserable condition."

WHENEVER the steel trust has asked for a high tariff-tax it has based its plea on the benevolent excuse that its first wish was to "protect the American workingman." Always, when the Republicans fixed a high tariff-tax on steel their orators and leaders shouted that it was done to "protect the American workingman." Louis D. Brandeis, citing figures from the Federal Bureau of Statistics, says: "Under the guise of protecting American workingmen J. P. Morgan and the owners of the steel trust have subjected the laborer to grossly excessive toll, and deprived him of his liberty. In England steel laborers work only 55 hours a week, while in this country they average 72 hours a week. About a third more than 72 hours, and a fourth more twelve hours a day and seven days a week, with an occasional 24 hour day when the shift is made. To work man this way not only makes them 'old at forty' but necessarily degenerates the race, mentally, morally and physically." Every Republican who will ask for votes next summer will base his request on the plea that he wants to "protect the American workman."

PRESIDENT TAFT, in his recent speech in New York, used these words: "The people are not always able to decide what is best for them. A great many men who believe this to be true lack the courage to say it." In explaining that the people do not always know what they want, the President made no mention of the fact that the people do not always have a chance, under the present cumbersome election methods, to give expression to their opinions. The people, for instance, probably would not be in favor of allowing hundreds of office-holding Republicans in the South to nominate the candidate for President, but how can they help themselves? Moreover, when the people decide almost unanimously that they want a certain thing, such as the recall in Arizona, the President steps in and says they shall not have it. When both Houses of Congress pass a bill repealing the tax on woolens downward, the President makes that legislation impossible with his veto. Apparently it makes small difference to Mr. Taft whether the people know what they want or not.

UNCLE JOE CANNON, "High Protection Joe," wanted to know, when the Democratic metal bill was before the House, why such articles as sewing machines had been placed on the free list. Chairman Underwood of the Democratic Ways and Means committee, courteously supplied the answer with the desired information. "We have placed these articles on the free list for the benefit of the American people," said Mr. Underwood. The uncontradicted testimony shows that sewing machines are being sold to the rich and poor alike in this country for from $23 to $45 a machine, and yet are being laid down, freight paid, in the Orient, at $8.75. We are not ashamed to go to the American people and say that when an article is manufactured in this country so cheaply that it can compete in all the markets of the world, we are willing to place it on the free list for the benefit of our own people. The metal bill passed by the Democrats makes reductions on all metal goods averaging 35 per cent, and places on the free list iron, nails, sewing machines, cash registers and many other articles now being sold by American manufacturers cheaper to foreigners than home consumers.

WHENEVER an American trust wants the tariff tax increased, it bases its plea on the argument that "American manufacturers cannot compete with the cheap labor of Europe." In eleven months of last year the exports of iron and steel products, together with agricultural implements and freight and passenger cars, amounted to nearly $270,000,000, an increase of about $54,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1910. These materials are exported from this country to all parts of the world, in the face of the competition of England, Belgium, Germany and France. The steel trust's foreign competitors had the advantage of "cheap labor" which the trusts pretend to fear so greatly whenever a proposal is made to lower the tariff. Yet the trusts' trade in foreign markets is constantly on the increase. How much longer will the American consumers allow themselves to be fooled by the trust "logic?"

According to an exchange this is the way it has grown: Talk about a long stone gaiter! HAIR HEALTH.

If You Have Scalp or Hair Trouble, Accept This Offer.

When we promise your money back for the mere asking if Rexall "93" Hair Tonic does not do as we claim it will, you certainly have no reason for even hesitating to try it. We do not ask you to obligate yourself in any way. We could not afford to do so strongly and so Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim. Some of our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the users, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer. Therefore, when we assure you that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will promptly eradicate dandruff, stimulate hair growth and prevent premature baldness, you may rest assured we know what we are talking about. We honestly believe that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will do more than any other human agency toward restoring hair growth and hair health. It is not greasy and will not gum the scalp or hair or cause permanent stain. It is as pleasant to use as pure cold water. It comes in two sizes; prices 50c and $1. Remember, you can obtain it only at our store—The Rexall Store, Perry's Drug Store.

Kind Words.

Kind words bring memories that echo through the years long after the life that uttered them have crumbled in dust. Children carry the memory of words of a parent's lips with them through childhood and often recall them in old age when, enveloped in the shadows of life, they are like the perfume of the violet that lifts its head above the spring showers and whispers to them of the sunshine. Money cannot buy, intellect cannot create so rare a gem as true kindness. It is a heart product and needs the touch of culture. It is killed by indifference and enfeebled by neglect.—Lebanon Enterprise.

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS

Are Being Cured by Vinol
New Haven, Conn.—"I was troubled with a most persistent chronic cough for a long time and had tried so many remedies and prescriptions without benefit that I was discouraged. I was persuaded by my friends to try Vinol. After taking the second bottle my cough left me, and I must say I never felt better in my life. I can also recommend Vinol to any one in a run-down condition as the best possible remedy." It is the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cods' livers, added by the blood-making and strength-giving properties of iron from which makes Vinol so efficient in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, run-down system. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

Cork Leg Held Not Good Divorce Plea.

Under an opinion by Judge White, of the Boston (Mass.) Divorce Court, "beaus and belles who marrying must run their changes of false teeth, imported hair and cork legs." The opinion was occasioned by Henry Zukow's action for annulment of his marriage on the ground that his wife concealed a deformity from her prospective husband until after the ceremony. "Such defects," continued the Judge, "are common to humanity, and must be changed in contemplating communal bliss."

A Society Event.

Mr. Paul Gilmore comes here very soon in a big revival of his greatest success, "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," the play that made him a star. Criticism from the News Tribune, Duluth. "The Mummy and the Humming Bird" played at the Lyceum last night, is one of the prettiest society dramas on the stage and with Paul Gilmore, natural, manly and forceful in the role of Lord Lumley, no greater treat can be asked than the privilege of witnessing the production. Mr. Gilmore creates a character in the part of Lumley and the self-centered, honorable, big hearted fellow, becomes very and very lovable; as the story is told. And while Lumley or rather Paul Gilmore is making such a warm place for himself in the hearts of the audience a great pity is also finding a place for the unfortunate Lady Lumley, who is being forced on to indiscretion if not folly, by her husband's extraordinary attitude toward her, and it is extraordinary in the farthest and deepest sense of the word.

One can understand the absorption of the man, as a scientist, to the exclusion of social life. But two minutes after her departure, for the dinner party, which even to please her he refused to attend, he gives up some very valuable time from his papers to entertaining an unknown Italian organ grinder. To be sure the scene, and it is a mighty clever one, is extremely useful in shaping a satisfactory ending to the play in the last act and the little inconsistency on the part of Lord Lumley will have to be laid at the door of the dramatist, who probably saw in it the possibilities of the drama rather than of the man.

Quispe is particularly fine. His best scene, the one in which he is introduced with Lord Lumley he endures, first to understand English and then to tell of his wrongs of his sufferings to the sympathetic Englishman is a marvelously fine piece of work and received well merited applause.

Signor D'Orelli makes a very acceptable Frenchman and certainly is admirable enough in disposition to merit the fate which would undoubtedly have been his, if there had been one more act.

Lumley. One cannot quite see what she finds attractive in the dancing little Frenchman, but one can easily see what she misses in her husband and her faults are not very serious after all. The charming Ruth, who tells plain truth with a candor and practical twist that are very convincing. She also indulges in one fit of rage which is becoming and not wholly unreasonable. The entire drama is worth a second thought. It is all so simple and so logical and so human. Paul Gilmore makes half the drama and the excellent lines make the other half. The rest and there is more, somehow, is about equally divided between the excellence of his support the pretty gowns and the appropriate and attractive settings. The play is clever in every sense of the word. It is well constructed and moreover, is full of witty lines in dialogues which might otherwise be considered. Carriages may be ordered for eleven o'clock.
